

PermataBank Prepares to Integrate with Bangkok Bank Indonesia, Expanding its Business Portfolio and Providing Greater Benefits for Stakeholders

As per regulation, the integration will qualify PermataBank as one of the BUKU IV banks in Indonesia with total capital of more than IDR 30 trillion and a capital ratio of more than 30%

JAKARTA – The Indonesian Financial Services Authority (OJK) has given in-principle approval for the integration of PermataBank and Bangkok Bank Indonesia Branch Offices, which is targeted for completion by December 2020.

As a condition for OJK's approval for Bangkok Bank Public Company Limited to acquire an 89.12% shareholding in PermataBank, which was completed on May 20, 2020, the regulator required the integration of Bangkok Bank's Indonesia Branch Offices with PermataBank. The move will support banking consolidation policies in Indonesia. In addition to increasing the value provided to employees, customers and communities of both banks, the integration will also help strengthen the nation's banking industry, as PermataBank will qualify as one of the BUKU IV banks in Indonesia with capital exceeding IDR 30 trillion and a capital ratio of more than 30% as per regulation.

Completion of the integration means good-quality assets and certain liabilities of Bangkok Bank Indonesia will be legally transferred to PermataBank, and Bangkok Bank Indonesia's business license will be returned to the regulator within two years of the effective date of integration.

The integration combines the strengths of Bangkok Bank, one of Asia's leading diversified banks which has had a presence in Indonesia for 52 years, with PermataBank, one of the 15 largest banks in Indonesia. Both banks share Bangkok Bank group's core value: to be a trusted partner to customers and stakeholders, which is expressed in Thai as "puen koo kit mit koo baan".

Ridha D.M. Wirakusumah, President Director of PermataBank said, "This integration marks a new milestone for us in our vision to be the bank of choice for all stakeholders and to become a formidable force in the Indonesian banking industry. Bangkok Bank's extensive network and its cross-border capabilities in key Asian markets will complement our product offering and bring significant value to PermataBank's customers. We also look forward to benchmarking and learning from Bangkok Bank's best practices in building trustworthy, strong, and humble relationships with its customers."

Chartsiri Sophonpanich, President of Bangkok Bank and President Commissioner of PermataBank, said, "We will create value together after integration as Bangkok Bank Indonesia will combine with PermataBank into a single, unified team. As a unified entity, we will have a greater ability to support customer growth, while fulfilling the financial needs of Indonesian individuals and businesses. This strategic partnership for growth will not only benefit Bangkok Bank and PermataBank, we believe it will also support Indonesia’s economy and leverage opportunities from ongoing ASEAN financial integration.”

In terms of customer service, PermataBank will be a universal bank capable of providing complete digital and commercial banking solutions for retail, SME and corporate customers. PermataBank’s customer base will grow with the inclusion of customers from Bangkok Bank’s network in Indonesia.

In addition, Bangkok Bank’s customers will gain access to a more complete and comprehensive banking experience through PermataBank’s network of more than 300 branches across Indonesia and its retail, Sharia and ground breaking digital banking services, as well as wider access to rupiah financing. PermataBank customers will enjoy enhanced banking services related to supply chain and trade finance – key strengths of Bangkok Bank as Thailand’s leading corporate bank. They will also be connected to Bangkok Bank’s international network to access more opportunities across Southeast Asia and beyond.

The integration of Bangkok Bank Indonesia into PermataBank will bring added value through the unified strengths and capabilities of its people, where Bangkok Bank Indonesia employees will be welcomed into the PermataBank family in the next few months.

Furthermore, this integration reflects Bangkok Bank’s confidence in PermataBank’s technology and digital banking roadmap. PermataBank remains committed to providing innovative solutions through its digital platforms to create the best customer experience. Since the start of the pandemic and throughout the first half of 2020, digital banking transactions through PermataMobile X and PermataNet saw significant growth of 675% compared to 2019.

“We will continue to strengthen our role as agents of development and deliver our aspirations to be a simple, fast and reliable bank for all our stakeholders. We are confident that Bangkok Bank will provide the best support for PermataBank in achieving sustainable growth and becoming a strong presence in Indonesia’s banking landscape,” said Ridha.
